

YOUR GIFTS CHANGED MICHELLE'S LIFE! TEACHER WITH DISABILITY PUBLISHES CHILDREN'S BOOKS

After spinal cord injury, teacher returns to classroom and authors book to teach children about disability.

Sixteen years ago, Michelle White was a young teacher. A parachuting accident left her with a spinal cord injury--paralyzed from the chest down.

Assisted by family and UDS employees, she now lives in her own home, teaches full-time, and advocates for people with disabilities.

When she returned to her classroom, her students wanted to understand why she was in a wheelchair and what had happened to her. That is when the idea for her first children's book New Opportunities was born. Its main character is a porcupine named Spiney.

Spiney also has a spinal cord injury. As she goes through rehabilitation, she has to be brave to tackle the obstacles ahead. But her friends and family stay by her side, so she isn't alone. Lots of people help Spiney do little things that she used to do by herself. Some days she cries, and some days she feels good. Michele and Spiney have a lot to teach all of us!

Dear Folks,

Thank you for joining us at this year's annual Fundraising Gala on May 13, where several artists with disabilities were celebrated.

Your giving makes it possible for artists like Susan, Jonathan, and Mike to live life as independently as possible and to exercise their creative talents for all to enjoy!

Your support enables us to realize our mission of enhancing the independence and enriching the lives of people with disabilities. We thank all our UDSF friends for sharing their gifts so that all our lives are enhanced!

AE STARS SHINE!

UDSF's Adult Enrichment Chorus "CHOICES in Harmony" entertained parents and friends at their Spring Concert on May 19th. Several participants displayed an array of talents: dancing, card tricks, song-writing. The choral group presented solos and provided back-up harmonies. Annette Whitlock directs the Chorus.

THANK YOU FOR THE RAVE REVIEWS!

You Helped to Create a “Miracle”!!

Debbie Bodley, mother of Deora Bodley who was killed on Flight 93 on September 11, 2001, spoke to inmates at Pine Grove Correctional Facility about dealing with her grief over the tragedy.

“Partners” John and Deora

These same inmates were part of the first class of inmate/trainers of UDS Service Dogs “Pups in Prison” program. They were inspired by her remarks and asked if they could name one of the puppies in honor her daughter and Debbie said: “Of course!”

This January, John, a military veteran, received his new UDS Service Dog who turned out to be Deora. Feeling inspired to pay homage to the original Deora Bodley, John and his Deora travelled to the Flight 93 Memorial in Shankstown PA this spring. As they approached the memorial spot honoring Deora, John and his Service Dog were amazed find that Debbie Bodley was there to lay flowers on her daughter’s monument. Debbie and John’s Deora met for the first time. Tears were shed and hugs were given as a true “coincidental miracle” took place.
